

A big 4 Australian bank

Early release of superannuation

The task

Momenta were tasked by a Big 4 bank to rapidly resource 15 Customer Service Officers to enable the Early Release of Superannuation for COVID-19 in mid-2020. The client originally intended to source a team of suitably qualified candidates from their existing employees, however, were unable to do so within the urgent and extremely compressed timeframe required.

The solution

Momenta was required to quickly supply a team of contractors and enable 'Work from Home' access for them to ensure that they could be set up professionally and adequately for this.

Momenta worked against the following challenges:

- Rapid team resourcing and onboarding, ensuring people could adjust to working from home for this role.
- Ensuring people were immediately available to start
- Momenta originally had these resources prepared for another piece of work intended to commence later in that month however, due to an extremely compressed timeframe we were able to liaise with the resources and move them to this piece of work as they had been fully vetted

- Extremely urgent turnaround of receiving the request and ensuring all candidates could be onboarding in the short time frame
- Fast-tracked the vetting process to enable a rapid and efficient onboarding on a single intake date

The outcome

Momenta supplied an entire team for this client. This team was entirely onboarded, trained, and commenced work remotely. The success of this initial process led to the client subsequently requesting an increase in the team size from 15 to 20.

Momenta continues to be the principal trusted resource vendor, supplying the best possible candidates in a rapid response, whilst also managing the interview, vetting and HR responsibilities.
